

GOD'S PROPOSAL

by Mary Richardson

Photo Credit: Gema Ibarra • Published by On-Purpose Publishing

Let me be your husband.

I want to lead and guide you.
I want to protect you.
I want to love you unconditionally.

You can trust me. I will never leave you or forsake you.
People may have deceived, abused, and taken advantage of you, but know that I am trustworthy.

In this world, death, destruction, and deception exist. Therefore, wear my armor and use my Word to take authority over the Enemy.

Let me be your husband.

I want you to realize your spiritual possibilities, but don't expect them to be as you planned. Rather, my ways are higher than your thoughts and dreams. The road will be narrow, but you can entrust your safety to me.

Let me be your husband.

Take my hand. I won't hurry ahead of you and leave you lagging. And I won't get behind you and push. There's no rush to catch up with others or keep up with me because I walk at your pace.

Let me be your husband.

Let's enjoy our journey. Expect many things to need time for you to be blessed as well as for you to be a blessing.

I know your physical needs for healing, human touch and relationships. As you have already experienced, I bring people alongside you as vessels of mine with skin on so you sense my physical presence. Some of my vessels will coach and serve you in practical matters. Others will lead you into healing and restoration.

Let me be your husband.

Talk to me. Share with me your deepest needs, even to the tiniest detail. Let me meet your needs in mysterious ways so my glory is revealed through you and your circumstances.

My beloved, accept my proposal...

Let me be your husband.

by Mary Richardson